Hi Salatiso

This serves to reiterate what I'd already discussed with you re Lukhanyo attending school Monday to Friday for grade R this year. So Lukhanyo won't be able to go to Glenvista Thursday. He'll be available anytime after 1pm after school on Fridays going forward. I will collect him per normal after 4pm Saturday. I had also raised the fact that I'm concerned re Lukhanyos speech delay mid last year and he's been attending Speech therapy and occupational therapy and am sure you've seen the improvement in his speech. If you're interested in their initial diagnosis and reports I will send through.

I also want to bring up something Lukhanyo told us that is concerning. When asking him how his visit was with you and why he said he was afraid when he was at your house he mentioned that bhuti(he informed me that that was Solo) chokes Milande when they are on the trampoline. This further concerns me as Lukhanyo has re-enacted this on me when he was frustrated - choked me a couple of times- but has since stopped after being punished for it. I need to know that Lukhanyo is being properly supervised by an adult when he is at your house. Kids being choked - even if its being 'playful' is not ok. I also worry that this is being done to my child while in your care.

Mpho

I have noted what you said, and I acknowledge it.

You are more than welcomed to do what you see fit, you know my stance, so I will do as I see fit as well. When is this happening so that I can file my court papers accordingly.

Can you also give me an update on the medical aid transfer?

I've written a whole chapter & book on the stupidity of sending a child to speech therapy, as I have on sending a child to school, so I am not going over this.

Again, do not treat your son like you as though he has a vagina, that is a boy and boys play ruff. I have way more eyes and competent adults in my house that are there even when I'm not.

The next time we discuss this will be in court, you will get my affidavit by next week and the matter will be on the roll.

I want you to remember this moment, because what comes next cannot be undone.

Good luck.

Regards,

Salatiso

I am still waiting to get your confirmation on when you are implementing your new plan.

I am also waiting for you to confirm the medical aid details.

From now on stop with the pretence with greetings and all that nonsense, get to the point. We are now opponents, that's what going to court means.

Hi Salatiso

School started today. So from this week.

Considering this has turned legal will be going through lawyer before making any decisions. So there might be a delay in responses.

Ndiyakuva Mamqwathi, I fully agree with you and I will be patient for the responses.

Is the Medical Aid confirmation dependant on your lawyer too? Just confirm, I'm not complaining.

In order to give you the time you need I will help you by being upfront with my case and keep you up with the developments so that you can be fully prepared, as I have always been.

To that effect please note;

- I will be seeking full custody,
- I will be launching a criminal charge on you for letting Sazi be looked after by people not legally or certified to do the job, this is an allegation, you can rebut it.
- I will seek an order declaring you mother as incompetent, based on the fact that under her care Sazi almost made a home in hospital, she also allowed you to hire questionable nanny's, prescribed rice cakes and other garbage proven to make Sazi sicker,
- I will be launching criminal charge on you for perjury, in your quest to dispossess me of Sazi you lied to a court of law that I tried to be violent. You confessed this and I am happy to seek your friends' sworn statement, Zelmari or anyone from her practice.

I'm still far from finished with the affidavit, what comes next is;

- You lied from the beginning, forcing a caesarean to cover your shame to your mother and try to make it as if I dumped you before Sazi was conceived, in the process risking your own child's life,
- You forced that I pay 'damages', not for Sazi but for you. Despite me offering and contributing to your medical aid so that if there's any complications you'd be covered you forced a payment for damages as if you care for tradition, even though you're a Christian who never did any traditional practice since we met. You only wanted TO JUSTIFY YOUR CHILD TO YOUR FAMILY BECAUSE YOU HAD BREACHED ALL YOUR CHRISTIAN BELIEFS AND STANDARDS SET BY YOUR MOTHER, WHOM YOU CAN NEVER LIVE UP TO, EVEN THOUGH SHE CAN'T LIVE UP TO YOUR GRANDMOTHER.
- How pathetic you have been despite having the best of schooling and resources.
- You are the reason I not only know school, no matter how much a parent pays for it, is bad but also makes people regress because we are supposed to be equals yet;
 - Despite me growing up with 'the worst', you with the best;
 - The reason we couldn't buy a home is because you couldn't measure up,
 - You failed in school and tertiary despite the resources,
 - You failed in life despite all the legislation favouring you as a black woman and my tax money that funds it as a black man from circumstances far worse than yours.

I'm taking my time but this will be ready next week. My family is fully aware of this, make sure your mother is because I will cc her on my next correspondence for transparency, as I have been to my whole family including T, my wife to be.

When I'm done, because it's a public record it's going on my next book with my name, yours, your mother and your family in it.

As I said, Goodluck.

In the interest of expediency please find attached for the lawyer drafting your defence. I will also be submitting Sazi's book as evidence, it will help for your representative to read it in it's entirety.
