6. INFORMATION REGARDING URGENCY OF APPLICATION

Submit the reasons why the Court has to consider the application as a matter of urgency and why undue hardship may be suffered if the application is not dealt with immediately

The Respondent is the minor child's father and exercises regular contact with the minor child. He has already assaulted us and threatened me further and we require the urgent protection of this court to prevent him from committing further acts of domestic violence.

If an interim order is not granted, then he will continue with his emotional, verbal and physical assaults/abuse. If an interim order is not granted and this application is served on him with a return date, I have no doubt that both myself and the minor child will be subjected to physical, emotional and verbal abuse. I fear for my life and that of my minor child.

(d)	The Respondent is to pay the following emergency monetary relief:
(e)	The Respondent is refused any contact with the following child or children:
(f)	The Respondent is granted the following contact with the above-mentioned child or children:
(g)	The physical address of the Complainant's residence not be disclosed to the Respondent

AFFIDAVIT

I, the undersigned,

MPHO MIMMI MKOSANA
(IDENTITY NUMBER: 8207090735088)

do hereby make oath and state that:

1. I am an adult female leasing executive manager, currently residing at number 42 St Swithins Avenue, Auckland Park, Johannesburg and I am the applicant in the matter.
2. The facts herein contained are, unless stated to the contrary, within my own personal knowledge and to the best of my belief, both true and correct.

THE PARTIES

3. The Applicant is Mpho Mimmi Mkosana with Identity Number: 8207090735088 ("the Applicant").
4. The Respondent is Salatiso Lonwabo Mdeni with Identity Number: 8209165689083 ("the Respondent").
5. The minor child is Lukhanyo Sazi Mkosana ("the minor child").

BACKGROUND

6. I was in a romantic relationship with the Respondent from or about 01 January 2015 up and until or about May 2017. During our relationship the minor child was conceived and was consequently born on 28 February 2018, at a time when we had already ended our relationship.
7. I attempted, through my attorneys, to negotiate a parenting plan with the Respondent but these negotiations failed, at the instance of the Respondent, and currently the Respondent attends at my premises, approximately twice a week to exercise contact with the minor child as follows:
 - 7.1. On a Wednesday, the Respondent would ordinarily exercise contact with the minor child between the hours of 12am and 2pm;
 - 7.2. On a Thursday, the Respondent would ordinarily exercise contact with the minor child between the hours of 3pm and 5pm;
 - 7.3. On both these dates the Respondent would not ordinarily spend the full 2 hours with the minor child and I would ensure that the minor child had his 'afternoon sleep' early in order to ensure that he is awake for when the Respondent arrives.

n-s MM

INCIDENT

8. Before the visit on 27 December 2018, both the Respondent and I agreed that he could visit the minor child at 11am, instead of the usual 3pm-5pm for this particular day only and therefore I ensured that the minor child was awake at 11am when he arrived.
9. The day before this, the Respondent only arrived at approximately 2pm and the minor child woke up 10 min before his arrival.
10. On 02 January 2019, the Respondent arrived unexpectedly, and contra our agreement, at 11am and the minor child was still sleeping as the Respondent was only due to arrive between 12am and 2pm.
11. I informed him that we should not wake the minor child up, as this would disturb his sleep patterns and would negatively affect his mood. It is also common knowledge and practice that one does not wake up a minor child at his age. The Respondent walked outside to play with the dog and I went to my room.
12. I then heard the Respondent shout, at the top of his voice, at my bedroom door that I must wake the minor child up and he walked towards me and grabbed both my arms and pushed me. With his force, I turned to the side and he then pushed his hands against my rib cage and shoved me into the room.
13. I then asked him to keep his voice down and to not assault me further.

n.s.

14. I then stood in front of the minor child's crib, with both my hands holding same and the Respondent pulled me off the crib, once again assaulting me.
15. The Respondent then picked the minor child up by his hand and said, "see now he is awake . The minor child was dangling in the air, like a doll, and was confused and tearful. I demanded that he put the minor child down.
16. The Respondent then put the minor child back into the crib, and stated the following, "don't get into my way again or else" and then left.
17. Shortly after leaving I received an email from the Respondent, which recorded the following:

"From: Salatiso Mdeni <salatiso.mdeni@gmail.com>
Date: Wed, 2 Jan 2019, 12:23
Subject: Re: Lukhanyo food
To: Mpho Mkosana <mphosuperstar@gmail.com>

Don't stand in my way when I come to see my son, you're the only liability Buggs is the asset.

When I come I will wake him after 5 minutes, unless you've a medical reasons why I can't do that one or two days in a week then he will wake up for me.

Besides, February 7 is here and the judicial system will take it's course.

Oh, there's a Samsung phone the guys found which I'm assuming is yours. It's in a plastic bag, I'll have the guys look for it when they are back because andazi bayibeke ph and drop it off."

A copy of this email is annexed hereto, marked "A".

ns

18. Firstly, the Respondent assaulted the minor child and me, and I did not give him permission to forcefully assault me;
19. Secondly, I feel threatened by his confirmation that I am a liability and must not stand in his way. This is not the first time that he has threatened me or told me that I am liability;
20. Thirdly, he confirms that he will not act in the best interest of the minor child and will forcefully wake him up when he exercises contact;
21. Fourthly, he continues to threaten that the "judicial system" is going to sort me out in circumstances where I have confirmed that he has parental rights and responsibilities and he exercises contact. The current threat stems around a section 21 application which I have informed him is not necessary in that I do not dispute the fact that he has parental rights and responsibilities. In this regard I have advised him that we should rather commence mediation to draft a parenting plan, but he refuses.
22. The Respondent continues to belittle me at every opportunity; an example is on 28 November 2018, the Respondent stated in an email, "Mpho, teach yourself to read so that you can answer appropriately". See annexure A in this regard.
23. The Respondent is forever telling me how much money he has and how I have failed my son and that he is the only one in a position to provide for the minor child. This is all recorded in the litany of correspondence (Annexure A).

n.s M

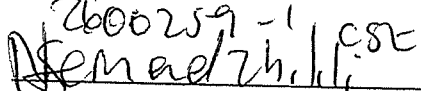

24. My desired outcome is: -

- 24.1. To prevent the Respondent from entering my bedroom at my premises;
- 24.2. To prevent the Respondent from committing any form of Domestic Violence against me and the minor child;
- 24.3. To prevent the Respondent from enlisting the help of a third party to commit any act thereof;
- 24.4. Not to emotionally, verbally or physically abuse the minor child or me.

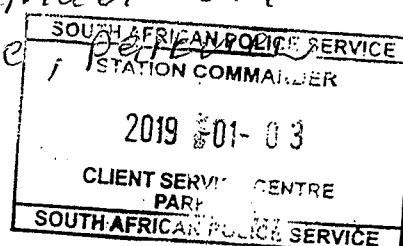

25. I reserve my right to supplement this affidavit should it become necessary.

MPHO MIMMI MKOSANA

I certify that the deponent has acknowledged that she knows and understands the contents of this affidavit, that she does not have any objection to taking the oath, and that she considers it to be binding on her conscience, and which was sworn to and signed before me at PARKVIEW on this the 03rd day of JANUARY 2019 and that the administering of the oath complied with the regulations contained in Government Gazette No R1258 of 21st July 1972, as amended

I don't see the materiality of what you're telling me about your mother, so I'll try this again only simpler;

1. Today I want to delay the visit to between 3&5, confirm if in order. Only answer yes or no
2. Send me Buggs's list. Only send list

I think you are misunderstanding a couple of things so let me clarify;

1. This is not a request. The last time I checked Buggs was as equally mine as he is equally yours, which means we equally share the rights and obligations relating to him. When I demand to spend more time with my son I am merely discharging my obligations.
2. You have always limited the time I spend with my son as you are now. Anything less than the equal time you spend with him is a restriction because we equally share parental obligations and responsibilities in relation to Buggs. The time I spend with Buggs was prescribed by you, I have it in writing both as contained in your email correspondence and the parental agreement you sent to me.
3. Your reasons for him not being capable of spending his weekends here make no sense.
 - a. Firstly Buggs is no longer solely reliant on breastmilk now,
 - b. You're at work the whole day, which would be no different because just so you conveniently forgot that's what breast pumps, bottles and fridges are for.
 - c. I have 3 cars, there's Msitheli, Ntobeko and George who will if needed to come to Melville to fetch Buggs milk daily. That's not even counting Buggs's grandmother, aunts and uBer.
 - d. I am not going to waste state resources by running a parallel process with a social worker, the appointment is already set for February. You are more than welcomed to confirm what you already know by getting a social worker to evaluate my residence, I know you might have forgotten you spend 2 years in 2 of my residences a know exactly how conducive it is people of all ages, otherwise you would not have brought not only your friends and family to sleep over by their kids as well.

My demand was merely an exercise of both my rights and obligations, whether you choose to honor is up to you but just as long as you know obligations are not terminated. They are only pending a court judgement and I assure you it will come, I'm patient enough to not compel you even though I can. I am only giving you an opportunity to do what you ought to and the court will confirm as such, the only reason I sought external intervention was the unreasonable exercise of your rights while conveniently exempting your responsibilities.

Thus far you are the only one who's needed a third party to tell you how to live your life and raise your child, I only did the same since you've shown you're incapable of looking out for the best interests of your child. Despite this however I am naive enough to believe you will miraculously grow up hence I afford you the chance to reason like an adult with a child would, it is up to you whether you take it or not.

Regards,
Salatiso

Lower yourself to my standards, really?

So for almost 2 years of your life you reduced yourself to my lower standards; standards that saw you have privacy for the first time in years instead of the communal living in your property. Standards that saw you upgrade your living from a crummy apartment in Bassonia to a full on spacious property. Standards that saw you with access and a privilege to not one but multiple cars some of which were at least 3 times better than the best you can afford? All this you had for less than what my utilities bill costs me, or at least did before I put solar?

Or maybe a higher standard for you is your life? Don't you wonder why I have never spent a single night in your house, doesn't that tell you what I think of your standards? Quantitatively you have driven my cars more than I have driven your own, doesn't that tell you of what I think of your standards? Now, if they aren't good enough for you because you enjoyed mine so well, aren't good enough for me because I used them at least 50% less than you enjoyed mine what makes you think they'll be good enough for your son?

You think I throw stones but I state facts. Every conclusion I've made was based on available information and I dare you to find one statement I can't substantiate.

Uzele ngoku, just because mediocrity is your reality my son's standards are way higher, higher than mine. Be the parent which you'd like to see your child turn out to be. I am, I work hard, I provide for my family, accomplished in my career and have built a multi million estate from a debt in my 36 years of life which I know will serve as a good foundation for my only child.

I don't throw stones Mpho, I state facts. While I was willing to give your mother the benefit of the doubt that nonsense she said to my mother about my nephew cost her all respect I was willing to give to her.

I'm a logic being, I base my conclusions on available evidence.

Anyway I actually do have to go, I actually do have better things to do. My son needs a future and Daddy needs to provide because it's not as though he can look up to his mother who all evidence to date suggests she has failed in her.

Look in the mirror and ask yourself, if your son was like you when he is your age would be proud? I ask myself that question everyday and my God I'd be proud, so I work harder to be better so that I can give him a higher goal to aspire to. When he looks at you what does he aspire to?

Salatiso

That's all I ask, it would be unreasonable of me to expect what's beyond your comprehension and I am a reasonable person. Add that up with your legal representative's opinion and your family you'll be half way there.

Enjoy your day,

I don't sign garbage but that doesn't mean there aren't interim arrangements to make sure my son's interests are prioritised.

The absence of a son's plan doesn't absolve you of your obligations to me pertaining my son. Whenever there's ambiguity you use logic and reason, I know that's a hard ask for you but if you consult with everyone that dictates your life you'll at least come to a half answer.

Good day

Please confirm if there'll be someone in the house between 13:30 - 15:00 for the drop off.

That rubber bib irritates Buggs so I bought him 3 alternatives to try out.

If there'll be no one in the house today then you'll have the items next Wednesday.

Noted, I'll tell Tina to buy 2.

In future give me quantities and should something finish mid month you can tell me or Tina and it will be replenished.

They'll be dropped Friday after DNA collection.
